

QUICK GUIDE | Writing Prompts

WHAT ARE WRITING PROMPTS?

Writing Prompts spark curiosity and creativity in the classroom. These digital assets give students the opportunity to explore curriculum concepts in a variety of ways. From Science and Health to Language Arts and Social Studies, Writing Prompts motivate students to reflect upon their own ideas and improve their writing skills. Each Writing Prompt has students practice one of the four types of writing: persuasive, narrative, expository, or descriptive.

FACT:

Discovery Education provides Writing Prompts across grades K-12.

Using Writing Prompts in the Classroom

660

The number of Writing Prompts available on Discovery Education Streaming

The percentage of Writing Prompts available in English/Language Arts alone

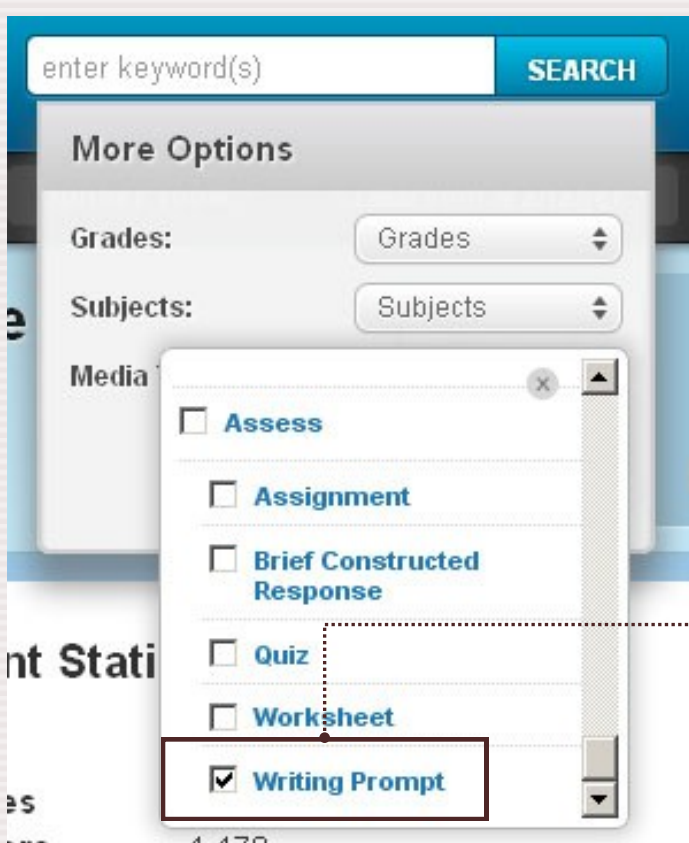

53%

8

The number of subjects explored by Writing Prompts

FINDING WRITING PROMPTS ON DISCOVERY EDUCATION STREAMING

In search results, expand Assess under Media Type and select Writing Prompt

In the keyword search box, click the Media Type drop-down under More Options and select Writing Prompt

